AGRICULTURAL LAND

Dear BOARD of Directors, dear CEO, dear Executive Management, Sir, dear Madam.

Innovative and in Slovenia already good confirmed Slovenian entrepreneur's company seeking possibilities to cooperate with your company/ Institution/Association/Community/Platform. On our EN web site are more information about us.

For years we've been dedicated to developing of innovative, total sustainable solution, which may contribute to reduce the vulnerability of food production from the effects of drought and heat, and also from the shortage of water for irrigation of agricultural land. In the present it is our already realized in practice verified sustainable solution. For the global expansion of our project, which we consider important for wider - global social-economy, for a sustainable development and for the future of our planet, we are addressing advanced companies / institutions/ associations, irrespective of area of their business, for possible constructive support or business cooperation as well as with the same reasons we are addressing medias, events organizers and platforms.

Our core, great, innovative and sustainable solution may offer to the world very valuable, high actual and needed contribution on the field of the security of supplying mankind with food, despite drought, heat and water shortage for irrigation of agricultural fields, which are the consequences of global Climate change.

We agree, that regards Climate change many explanations appear in a variety of objectives, including those that are not constructive. We are severely distanced from all of such. For years we've been dedicated to developing of innovative, total sustainable solution, which may contribute to reduce the vulnerability of food production from the effects of drought and heat, and also from the shortage of water for irrigation of agricultural land. In the present it is our already realized in practice verified sustainable solution.

Please, get acquainted with this important message:

Issue: NO MORE NEEDED IRRIGATION FOR GOOD AGRICULTURAL YIELD IN CONDITIONS OF DROUGHT AND HEAT. We have sustainable, innovative, natural and effective, in real growing conditions in severe drought and in heat proved solution. Test in real grown conditions confirms, that its appropriate use, without irrigation enables good development of plants and crops/yields, which in terms of quantity are about the same and in terms of quality are even better than those, which are in the same weather circumstances of drought and heat, grown on irrigated or watered fields.

Link with information is here.

This is our invaluable contribution to the sustainable supply with food for humanity, despite to drought and heat circumstances of Climate change and their consequences, despite of lack of water for irrigation of fields.
