Agro-homeo-naturopathie™ : Are there any relations between those products and biodynamic remedies?

My answer to the question: NO, regarding biodynamic preparations there is no any similar or same products of mine.

My explanation is available below:

Biodynamics is rooted in the work of philosopher and scientist Dr. Rudolf Steiner, whose 1924 lectures to aristocrats at that time are future opened a new way to integrate scientific understanding with a recognition of spirit in nature.

Rudolf Steiner developed Anthroposophy ('anthropo' meaning human, and 'sophia' meaning wisdom), a philosophy based on the premise that all beings can develop their inner potential and access a spiritual world. This philosophy has inspired an education system (Waldorf and Steiner schools), a therapeutic approach for people with learning difficulties (for example, the Camphill Communities), anthroposophic medicine, eurythmy (an expressive art movement) and biodynamic farming. Biodynamic agriculture is a form of alternative agriculture very similar to organic farming, but it includes various esoteric concepts drawn from the ideas of Rudolf Steiner (1861–1925). Beginning in 1926, American farmers and gardeners joined the effort to test and promulgate Steiner's agricultural ideas. By 1938 there were 39 Americans who had joined this international effort, with some reading Steiner's work in the English translation and others in the German original. Biodynamic associations, which are credited with the expansion of biodynamics around the world first began in America and later around the world to educate farmers about biodynamic farming and teach them to prepare and use biodynamic preparations. These preparations were and still are made according to Rudolf Steiner's recipes and are prepared from animal excreta (eg manure from horn), from cremated parts of plant pests from minerals (eg Silicea), from certain plant parts especially from oak, chamomile, nettle, dandelion. It is also characteristic of the biodynamic mode of production that the moon, stars, and planets are taken into account in this regard. For practical use thy benefit the biodynamic calendar also includes constellations and planetary alignments. Inspired by Steiner, the biodynamic calendar, now in its 61st year, was developed by German farmer, Maria Thun (1922 - 2012) who experimented with planetary effects on planting, sowing, and harvesting.

My personal views: There is certainly a lot of deep perception in R. Steiner's philosophy with an understanding of the fact of the multiple dimensions of Nature and of the connections of everything with everything. Undoubtedly, his recipes were created for the time of his life, for the conditions that were on Earth at the time. It was Rudolf Steiner who was one of the advanced minds of the time, who predicted that the situation on Earth would change drastically in about 100 years, especially light ethers.

It was clear to him how important it is in terms of knowledge regarding the transfer of knowledge and skills to know when, to whom and what. It is necessary to take into account the fact that the mentioned anthroposopher offered these services in business, especially to the aristocracy of that time, and that this was the time that was planetarily marked by Uranus in the constellation of Taurus. It was a period of world wars and the creation of their causes, a period of racism, Nazism, as well as a period of advanced inventions.

This time – now - is time of of great changes in the situation on Earth and the changing light ethers that R. Steiner predicted cca 100 years ago is now.

And if you look at the recipes for biodynamic preparations, you find that they are the same as in Steiner's time. For the dissemination of biodynamic / Steiner knowledge today, practically no special prior knowledge is required, there is no other condition than that you join the nearest biodynamic society. There you will learn in particular what R. Steiner wrote 100 years ago and you will be able to stick to it hoping that this is the right solution.

I acknowledge the remarkable role that biodynamic philosophy has played in its time, and I great appreciate the effort that has been put into it. But unfortunately, in my personal experience and perception, many of nowadays people don't understand the philosophy behind Steiner's product recipes. Such people, in my opinion, are just looking for instant solutions and hoping to get something that works well and is preferably nature friendly.

You see, as personally I understood that is immutable to me. How is possible still use unchanged recipes for Steiner's preparations, ignoring the changed conditions (also for farming, food production) on Earth, huge changes in light ethers, due to which plants are already adapting photosynthesis, biochemistry, misunderstanding, inability to see new current, much-needed solutions for our time! Where did this lead and where does it lead? Read this one in this my post under this link and you will surely understand my answer:

NO, regarding biodynamic preparations there is no any similar or same products of mine.
