Dear recipient, dear Company!

Thanks in advance for your interest to read this business letter and dedicated time. For sure information below is interesting and maybe also beneficial for you as well for your esteemed company.

In today's business environment every (important, advanced) project requires connections with like-minded people., cooperation- business partnerings of companies with a compatible vision, targets, and operation. That is the reason why I am contacting you/ your esteemed company.

My name is Majda Ortan and first of all, please let me introduce myself briefly.
My entrepreneurial business company was established in 2012 and is located in Slovenia, which is a small country within the EU and is a member of EU countries.

Sometrhing like our products without active substances, at first glance, may perhaps seem like a futuristic idea to some, but let me show you truths that are from many exposed cases of food growing in real growing conditions real and true, including scientific explanations. Although science sometimes lags far behind with scientific explanations for the operation of the most advanced technologies, in this case, science has worked diligently with us through knowledge institutions. Climate change and impending consequences, including threats to food security, have prevailed over skepticism "out of habit".
Among other complex production/ growing programs, we also offer a comprehensive hop production program with our products, which also includes a proven, excellent, natural solution for efficient hop production in conditions of drought, heat, without the possibility of irrigation or watering.

Climate changes are changing also the old rules in global and local Agriculture. The whole world is searching right solutions. now your esteemed company has the opportunity to join one of the breakthrough innovations and at the same time natural and sustainable solutions for agriculture, gardening, home gardening. it's an innovative sustainable natural quantum mode of food growing on the cleanest technologies by using our products.

Some more important details - Kindly, let me explain briefly: Nine years ago, I brought to the Slovenian market a complex offer of my own developed natural products, which have proven to be extremely effective in real conditions of agricultural production, the breakthrough innovative contribution is that they are without active substances. Their appropriate energized natural active ingredients are active and work on the basis of strengthening their own life forces of plants and soil, so strengthening their own resistance, balance their and natural adaptability to changing extreme environmental factors. (Under this link are available short additional information)

As mentioned above, we also offer sustainable and natural solutions for successfully growing in demanding drought and heat conditions without the possibility for irrigation and watering.., kindly read a short description.

These our products are in Slovenia PRODUCTS FOR GENERAL USE - thus they are placed on the Slovenian market according to the instructions of the Food Safety Administration of the Republic of Slovenia. Therefore, they do not need to be registered but have a Certificate that they are allowed to be used in organic production.
